WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department has dropped indictments against some 600 draft-age youths who violated Selective Service rules and then refused to be inducted into the service after their classifications or induction dates were changed.

The department made public Thursday a memorandum signed by Asst. Atty. Gen. J. Wilson. It was sent to U.S. attorneys Jan. 30, 11 days after the Supreme Court held that speeding up induction or reclassifying a young man as punishment for draft delinquency is unconstitutional.

WASHINGTON (AP) — FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover has only by names and nephews, congratulated former Kentucky Gov. A. B. (Happy) Chandler Sunday for his arrest in St. Paul while he was making his way through a crowd of some 200 youths in the UK's building during demonstrations prompted by the shooting deaths of four Kent State University students.

Chandler, also a former U.S. senator and a current member of the University of Kentucky Board of Trustees, hit Mike Greenwell of Louisville after the student grabbed Chandler's tie while he was making his way through a crowd of some 200 youths in the UK's building during demonstrations prompted by the shooting deaths of four Kent State University students.

According to persons who have heard the 71-year-old Chandler describe the Hoover letter, the FBI director said if such prompt action were taken by others the country would not be bothered by similar campus disruptions.

Nevertheless, Chandler has publicly apologized for the fist-cuffs.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court may use a case challenging use of federal funds for construction grants to sectarian schools to help clarify the extent to which the Constitution permits federal aid to religiously oriented institutions.

The Nixon administration, taking the position that some such aid is permitted by the First Amendment, recommended Thursday that the court hear an appeal brought May 11 by attorneys for the Connecticut Civil Liberties Union and the American Jewish Congress. Both organizations vigorously dispute that such aid is constitutionally permissible.

Their suit was dismissed in March by a federal court in Hartford, Conn., on the grounds that Congress intended to include church-run colleges among institutions eligible for such aid.

Solicitor General Erwin N. Griswold, in a memorandum to the court, said the district court was correct in this view, but by hearing the challenge from Connecticut the court could "provide needed clarification."

Two years ago the high court authorized the loan of school textbooks bought with public funds to sectarian and other private schools, and in April agreed to review a Pennsylvania law taxing horse racing to help finance the teaching of secular subjects in sectarian schools.

Banker Dies

FORREST CITY, Ark. (AP) — W.W. Campbell, 81, of Forrest City died early today in a Memphis hospital following an extended illness.

Campbell was chairman of the board of First National Bank of Eastern Arkansas in Forrest City. He began his career with the bank in 1909 as a cashier, working his way to president of the bank in 1924.

Campbell was a member of the board of directors of Arkansas Power and Light Co., and was a trustee at Arkansas College at Batesville. He served as vice chairman of the Arkansas Development Commission for 10 years.

He was a member of the Federal Advisory Council of the Federal Reserve System for two terms and served for six years on the board of the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis.

In 1948, the editors of Fortune Magazine named Campbell as the outstanding country banker.

Campbell is survived by his widow; a son, W.M. Campbell, who is president of the First National Bank of Forrest City, and a daughter, Mrs. Dennis Jarrett.

Services were to be held at 2 p.m. today at Graham Memorial Presbyterian Church in Forrest City.

college campus for the first time in almost a year, was interrupted during his brief speech by a small band of hecklers chanting "peace now" and "one, two, three, four, we don't want Nixon's war." The crowd booed the demonstrators.

Police arrested nine persons on charges of disturbing a public worship, a misdemeanor.

Nixon said he and the students both want the same thing — peace.

"I can tell you my life is dedicated to the cause that I know you are dedicated to, all of you," the chief executive declared. "I want this nation to be at peace, and we shall be."

"A great majority of America's young people, as I do, do approve if dissent but they say they want the right to be heard and when they speak they want the right to be heard and when they speak they think other people should be silent so that they can be heard."

The President continued: "It is a generation that is not the last generation, as some Americans think. It isn't the beat generation. It isn't the beat-up generation. It can be and will become the great young generation."

Nixon conceded America isn't everything he would like it to be. Young people, he said, are concerned about such things as air and water pollution, poor housing, inferior education and alienation between the races.

"I know there are things about America that are wrong," he said. "But I also know that this is a country where a young person knows that there is a peaceful way he can change what he doesn't like about America and that is why it is a great country."

Police Probe
the Two Day
French Riot

PARIS (AP) — Police were questioning more than 400 youths today following two days of rioting in Paris' Latin Quarter.

Officers charged into two University of Paris buildings Thursday night, cleared out the youths, and hauled them away in their police vans. Authorities said that so far it appeared that criminal charges might be filed against 30 of the youths. Those not charged were to be released.

University buildings are off limits to police unless a rector asks them in. The request Thursday night came from the rector of the faculty of science, who said he feared the militant students would damage university equipment.

The gendarmes hauled away between 400 and 500 young people although they had been given orders to clear the buildings without making arrests.

There was no official word on the number of persons injured. Earlier in the day, youths threw objects at police from the roof of a building at the Sorbonne and the police fired tear gas grenades back.

The rioting began Wednesday after the government ordered dissolution of a pro-Peking group called the Proletarian Left and continued after the editors of a Maoist newspaper were sentenced to jail on charges of inciting crimes against the state.

Eighty-one policemen were injured in Wednesday's riots, and one was hurt Thursday in an attack on a police bus.

Support for the youths appeared limited. Newspapers on both the right and the left assailed them.

2 Officers to Face Charges in Shooting

FT. BENNING, Ga. (AP) — Two officers face charges of attempted murder in connection with a shooting incident last year in South Vietnam's Mekong Delta.

The Army accused Capt. Vincent N. Hartmann, 34, of Scranton, Pa., and 1st Lt. Robert G. Lee Jr., 22, of Springfield, Mo., Thursday of "ordering members of their command to fire into buildings used for human habitation on or about June 15, 1969." They were then with the 9th Infantry Division.

The maximum penalty for attempted murder is 20 years.

Col. Charles C. Thebaud, commander of the Ft. Benning Army Infantry School Brigade, to which the men are now assigned, has ordered a grand jury type investigation to determine whether the two officers should be tried by court-martial.

The alleged shooting incident has been under investigation since last fall. Army sources acknowledged it was brought to the Army's attention by Rep. Lionel Van Deerlin, D-Calif.

Van Deerlin informed the Army that a captain in the Medical Corps told him of an infantry company being ordered to use a Vietnamese village for target practice.

Pentagon sources said two Vietnamese civilians, a woman and a boy, were wounded. The woman reportedly died later.

The shots allegedly were fired at two huts out of five in a small village.

Van Deerlin said in an interview in California Thursday "men, women and children came running from the huts as the firing continued."

He said he was told that an officer ordered the firing on the village with the comment that his men "hadn't had much action lately."

The time at which the Army says the actions took place was more than a year after the alleged My Lai massacre in which more than 102 South Vietnamese civilians were reported killed. My Lai is several hundred miles from the Mekong Delta.

deficit in fiscal 1971, starting July 1, would be as low as the $1.3 billion figure estimated by Nixon.

As a result of the tax reform bill enacted last December, he said, the government is suffering a net loss of $11 billion or $12 billion in annual revenue.

This results, he said, from dropping the 5 per cent income tax surcharge June 30, the increase in the personal exemption from $600 to $650 effective July 1, the 15 per cent boost in Social Security benefits which took effect last January, and the new low-income allowance granted poor families on their tax returns.

The only offsets, he said, were $3 billion gained from repeal of the 7 per cent investment tax credit for business firms and about $1 billion from various reforms.

The President, in his January budget message, forecast a $1.3 billion budget surplus for fiscal 1971. But, on May 19, he conceded there had been a $2.6 billion turnaround and a $1.3 billion deficit now is in prospect.

But, said Williams, "that $1.3 billion is a completely phony figure. It is based on the so-called unified budget which counts the money in the Social Security trust fund, the highway fund, the unemployment compensation trust fund—things that never should be counted."

"All of the money in those funds is tied up and obligated for the purposes for which the taxpayers paid it. It is not available to the Treasury for general expenses."

"On the old administrative budget basis, the true deficit would be at least $10 or $11 billion for the next year."

It is evident this is the case, Williams said, because the administration is seeking an $18 billion increase in the national debt limit to cover these true deficits in the current year and next.

Many Calls
Made in the Kennedy Case

BOSTON (AP) — Nearly 12 hours passed after the accident fatal to Mary Jo Kopechne last summer, telephone company records show, before the first call charged to Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's credit card was made from Martha's Vineyard wisland.

The call was made from Vineyard Haven, several miles away from where Kennedy appeared at the police station in Edgartown taken place some time after 11 the previous night.

The call was made to the house of Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis in the Kennedy compound at Hyannis Port. There is no record of who placed the call, nor of who answered it. It was placed at 10:56 a.m. and lasted 23 minutes and 54 seconds.

These details were made public Thursday by the Suffolk Superior Court, along with the record of four calls made July 18, before the accident, and 11 others made July 19, after the call to Hyannis Port.

Feeder Pig
Production Profitable

Hope, Ark. — feeder pig production can provide an excellent source of income for farmers willing to donate a little time for sound management.

Cayce B. Smith, associate county Extension agent, says that most of the 35 farmers raising pigs in Hempstead County start with one or two sows. This is important, especially for those growers who have no previous experience.

The farmers in Hempstead County have an option of either growing feeder pigs on contract or independently. Most of the farmers are growing them independently, however, several have made applications for contracts.

Arkansas
Poultry Fete
June 11-13

LITTLE ROCK — The Arkansas Poultry Industry, a billion-dollar industry, will hold the 11th Annual Poultry Festival in Hot Springs June 11, 12 and 13. There will be approximately 3,000 people in attendance at the many functions and events. These people will come from all over Arkansas as well as other poultry producing areas.

The State Festival brings to an end a Poultry Festival season in Arkansas that has included four district poultry festivals held in Springdale, Conway, Nashville and Batesville in May. At these district festivals, contestants were selected to compete at the State Festival in Hot Springs. The finalists at the district level will compete at the state level for the following contests: 1970 Arkansas Poultry Princess, Arkansas Poultry Cookin' Queen, 4-H Broiler Bar-B-Que Champion and the Poultry Producers of the Year.

A new activity inaugurated two years ago, and one which has turned out to be very popular, is the Producer of the Year in broilers, eggs, turkeys, breeders and started pullets or poulters. This program is aimed at selecting top producers in each category from over 6,000 producers in the State of Arkansas and giving them due recognition for the necessary part they play. In each of the four districts, the top broiler, egg, turkey, and breeder and started pullet or poult producer was selected, and they will represent their district at the State Festival as guests of the Arkansas Poultry Federation. A panel of judges will study the records of these top 20 producers and name a State winner in each division.

by the administration in approaching the upcoming confrontation.

This became apparent Thursday when State Department press officer Carl Barth said Russia's reply to a previous inquiry about its military involvement in Egypt was "both imprecise and unsatisfactory."

The meeting, between Asst. Secretary of State Joseph J. Sisco and Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin, is a follow up to a May 5 session in Moscow involving U.S. Ambassador Jacob Beam and Deputy Foreign Minister Vladimir Vinogradov.

There also have been some four-power meetings at the United Nations on the Middle East. But, according to reports to Washington, the Soviets have shown a tough and uncooperative attitude, increasing the impression they are on a hard policy line.

Israel has been pressing the United States to authorize the sale of 25 Phantom fighter-bombers and 100 Skyhawk fighters. Israel contends Russia's involvement in Egypt has turned the balance of power in the Arab's favor.

So far Nixon has refrained from supporting that conclusion, saying he is re-evaluating the Russian intentions, officials confirm, is part of that process.

Nixon would like to have not only some assurance about Moscow's defensive purposes in Egypt, but also clear word so the switch to offensive operations and that Russian personnel will not become involved in combat along the Suez Canal by installing and manning advanced new air defense missiles.

But even if the Soviet government were willing to offer all those calming promises, administration officials would have to be taken into account by the President.

BROTHER AGAINST BROTHER

Dear Helen: Our older son is in the National Guard, our younger son in college. Think what might happen: A college riot. Heaven forbid, another Kent. One son pitted against the other. Perhaps neither of them wants to participate, but one must because he is ordered to, and the other might get caught up in a mob, or be an innocent bystander. Or perhaps he'd be dissenting because he BELIEVES that certain things are wrong; and who am I to argue? I hate war, yet here is a possible war between brothers.

I can't face this somehow: Brother against brother in a country we are all supposed to love and honor. What have we come to?

Television and Radio

NEW YORK (AP)— It may be coincidence, but it may also be a deliberate ploy. But the nights on which both David Brinkley and Chet Huntley work together on NBC's evening news roundup seem to be getting rarer and rarer.

With Huntley moving inexorably toward his network retirement two months hence, it could be that the NBC news department is gently conditioning the audience to the new order.

Brinkley has been away recently, on a long distance cattle drive which apparently will turn up as an NBC special sometime next season. Chet is away now, apparently catching up on some vacation time. Meanwhile, the viewers are being introduced to John Chancellor.

Frank McGee, who will alternate with Chancellor, hardly needs an introduction, either. He has anchored endless news specials and marathon events including space flights for years.

Chancellor, anchoring the Thursday news roundup alone from Washington, suggested his future style—cool, impartial newsman.

One of the big difficulties about television's current passion for nature-in-the-raw programs is that the subject matter tends toward repetition. For example, the sea turtle and its survival struggle seems to be a favorite subject of the cameramen.

ABC's "Animal World" on Thursday night was dedicated to an inspection of the giant green turtle of the Sulu Sea. It seems that giant green turtles are in danger because human beings who live in the area of the Sulu Sea are fond of eating giant green turtle eggs.

Less than a week ago, NBC's "Great Barrier Reef" contained a segment showing the frantic race to the sea by newly hatched turtles while birds of prey were furiously gobbling many of them up.

These nature shows are interesting and informative, but they are also worrisome. Each one, it seems, feels it is necessary to report on some species which is on the verge of extinction. In the past season we have been presented with the crisis of the wolf, the coral, the turtle, the tiger, the alligator and more than one species of whale. Man, generally, is the most dangerous predator, but since most of us rarely come in contact with any of the endangered species, there is not much we can do except worry.

In a national television poll of representatives of the print media by the show business trade publication Variety, CBS's bi-weekly news program "60 Minutes" won the most points. ABC's "Room 222" and NBC's "Laugh-In" placed second and third, respectively.

The selections, it should be noted, do not agree with polls of audience popularity. "Laugh-In" is the nation's top show according to the Nielsen ratings, while "60 Minutes" usually winds up somewhere down at the bottom of the list.

Hurler Triant Shines at the Bat Too

By TOM SALADINO
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Minnesota Twins acquired Luis Tiant for his pitching ability but the hard-throwing Mexican has shone at bat too, and is making the trade with the Cleveland Indians look like the steal of the year.

The 29-year-old unbeaten right-hander rolled to his sixth consecutive victory Thursday and contributed three hits and three runs batted in as the Twins socked Milwaukee 11-2.

In the only other American League contest, Oakland blanked California 2-0.

In National League play, Philadelphia edged Montreal 5-3 in 11 innings, San Francisco nipped Los Angeles 4-3, St. Louis rocked the New York Mets 9-2 and Chicago beat Pittsburgh 8-7.

Tiant, who raised his average to .434, led Minnesota's 16-hit attack against five Brewers pitchers, stroking a run-scoring single in Minnesota's four-run second and a two-run single in a four-run fourth as the Twins raced to an 11-0 edge.

Tiant, however, was forced to leave in the eighth inning with a tight shoulder muscle after giving the Brewers eight hits and both their runs.

Last year was a nightmare for the Mexico City native, who pitched ineffectively and wound up losing 20 games while winning only nine. His earned run average ballooned to 2.84 from his 1968 league-leading mark of 1.60 when he had a 21-9 record.

During the winter, Tiant along with right-hander Stan Williams were sent to the Twins for Dean Chance, Bob Miller, Graig Nettles and Ted Uhlaender.

The trade has been a great one for Minnesota to this point.

On the Cleveland side of the ledger, Chance, sidelined most of last year by injuries while compiling a 5-4 record, is only 1-5 while Miller, a reliever, is 1-2.

Nettles, an infielder-outfielder, is hitting only .145 with centerfielder Uhlaender at .287.

And those statistics help to back up the standings of each club.

The Twins, leaders in the West Division of the AL, have a 29-12 record and are 2½ games in front of California, Cleveland, at 14-26 is last in the East, 15½ in back of Baltimore's front-runners.

Tony LaRussa, a second baseman recalled from the minors a week ago, rapped a two-run double in the seventh inning for the A's giving Chuck Dobson all the support he needed.

Dobson, 5-4, struck out three Angels and didn't walk a batter as he limited California to six singles.

Tony Taylor cracked a pair of solo homers but it was Terry Harmon's sacrifice fly in the 11th inning that gave the Phils their fourth straight victory and sent the skidding Expos to their fifth loss in a row.

Taylor's first homer tied the contest at 3-3 in the seventh and he followed Larry Bowa's triple and pinch hitter Harmon's fly ball with his second roundtripper.

The Expos scored all three runs in the second inning off Phils' starter Grant Jackson. Ron Stone had a two-run double for Philadelphia in the sixth.

Dick Dietz cracked a homer in the bottom of the ninth, giving the Giants their victory after the Dodgers had tied it in the top of the inning at 3-3 on Jim Lefebvre's run-scoring single.

Bobby Bonds and Ken Henderson also cracked homers for the Giants and winner Gaylord Perry, 7-5, Reliever Jim Brewer, who served up Dietz' 10th circuit of the season, was the loser.

Joe Hague drove in five runs with a homer and three singles behind Bob Gibson's strong 11-strikeout pitching in the Cards' triumph. Rich Allen contributed three hits to the winners' attack, who knocked out Mets' starter and loser Jim McAndrew in a four-run first inning.

Jim Hickman's two-run homer, his second blast of the game, gave the Cubs their victory.

Hickman's first two-run shot had tied the contest at 6-6 but the Pirates went in front 7-5 in the eighth on Maffei Alou's RBI single before Hickman stroked his 10th homer of the year, his 11th in six games.

Usually a Slow Starter Says Mr. Hill

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Golf Writer

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — "I'm usually a slow starter here," Dave Hill said, then flashed that impish grin.

"But this time, everybody's got problems, cause of Davy got off and running."

And that he did, blasting out a remarkable 63, built on a fantastic string of six holes where he cut seven strokes off par for the first-round lead in the $150,000 Danny Thomas-Memphis open golf tournament.

"It's the greens," the slim, darkly handsome Hill said Thursday. "I just putt these greens so good."

But he missed a couple that could have put him in with a 61—matching the lowest score of the year on the pro tour.

One was for an eagle from four feet on the 18th hole—he played the back nine first. The other was for a birdie from six feet on the second "and I must have been afraid I was going to shoot a good score," said Hill, who has won this event twice in the last three years.

He held a one-stroke lead over Dick Crawford, who said he had been in a slump since early in March. Crawford had a 64 with five birdies, an eagle and a single bogey.

"My best round since the Citrus (in Orlando, Fla. has been a 72," Crawford said, "and I've had a lot of 74s. But I finally managed to cut across on 'em." Veteran Jack McGowan, rookie Handy Wolff and young Hale Irvin followed at 65 with seven more at 66, including Dean Beman, Grier Jones and Homero Blancas.

The huge group at 67 included Tom Shaw, George Archer and Gene Littler as 37 players—well over one-third of the field—broke par 70.

Some of the pre-tournament favorites for the $30,000 first prize had their troubles, however, and appeared in danger of missing the cut when the field is trimmed to the low 70 and ties for the final two rounds Saturday and Sunday. Lee Trevino had a 73, Tony Jacklin a 71 and Frank Beard and U.S. Open champion Orville Moody matched par 70.

Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus, Gary Player and Billy Casper are not competing.

Hill, a 33-year-old veteran of 12 years on the pro tour who came into his own last year, had seven birdies, an eagle and two bogeys "when my favorite club, a six iron, spit at me a couple of times." That was on the 12th and third when he bogeyed from traps.

Hill, a product of the caddy ranks who has drawn his share of suspensions and fines for his over-the-candor pronouncements, started his assault on par on the 13th hole of the short, 6,455-yard, par-70 Colonial Country Club course.

He reached the par five in two and two-putted from 18 feet, then ran in birdie putts of 25 and 18 feet on the next two holes, and canned a 12-foot eagle putt after two big hits on the par five 16th. He put a six iron five feet from the flag on the 17th and missed another eagle from four feet on the next.

Dave also birdied the fourth and fifth, rifling an iron a foot from the hole on the fourth and dropping an 18-footer on the fifth.

He parred in, then stopped to sign an autograph for a young fan who offered a program.

"I'll put it right up at the top here," Hill said, "cause that's where I'm going to finish."

Fastest Field Expected at Indy 500

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — The fastest field in more than half a century of auto racing at Indianapolis is awaiting the starter's flag Saturday in the 34th 500-mile race at the Indy Speedway.

Al Unser of Albuquerque, N.M., leads the pack with a 17.221 average for his four qualifying turns around the 2½-mile oval. For this, Unser, brother of the 1968 race winner, earned the pole position and the favorite's tag along with three-time Indianapolis winner J.J. Foyt, Jr., Houston, Tex. Foyt qualified No. 3.

Besides Bobby Unser, also of Albuquerque, and Foyt, one other former winner is in this year's field — Mario Andretti, the 1969 champ from Nazareth, Pa.

Andretti holds the record for running the race, 156,867 miles an hour.

A purse expected to top $825,000 will be divided Sunday night at the traditional victory dinner. Last year drivers and owners split $802,127 with Andretti and Andy Granatelli earning $206,000.

The race is scheduled to start at 12 noon EDT. Official standings won't be posted until 8 a.m. Sunday.

Joining Al Unser in the first row are Foyt and Johnny Rutherford of Fort Worth, Tex. The 32-year-old Rutherford captured the slot between Unser and Foyt at the head of the 11 rows of racing machines. His average was 170.213, just a shade behind the pole sitter.

The slowest car in the field, driven by Jim McEneaney, qualified with a 166.821 average.

The Speedway has recorded 58 deaths in the years of the 500 and also counting the pre-500 races of 1909-10. The tolls of 34 drivers, 14 mechanics, 9 spectators and one Speedway guard arose from accidents during the race itself as well as in the month of preliminaries and practice preceding the Memorial Day classic. There has been no fatal accident this year. New Zealander Denis Hulme was prevented from competing after suffering burns on his hands in an accident during practice.

Withdrawal From SWC by Texas Talked

EL PASO (AP) — A statement from University of Texas regents was expected today on the school's role in the Southwest Conference.

It has been rumored that Texas, largest and richest school in the eight-team conference, might withdraw.

Regent Chairman Frank Erwin Jr. said earlier this month he doubted that the regents—who would have to approve Texas' withdrawal—would take any action this soon.

The matter is listed as an "emergency item" on the regents' agenda. It notes that the regents will receive a report from athletic director and head football coach Darrell Royal and Neils Thompson, an engineering professor who is chairman of the Athletic Council.

Royal and Thompson are expected to attend the meeting.

The latest hint that the Longhorns might quit the conference came after the circuit reprimanded and publicly censured football-baseball star James Street and catcher Tommy Harmon for "regrettable misconduct and undisciplined behavior" at an April 18 baseball game in Austin against Baylor.

Harmon applied a hard tag to a Baylor runner and, after the tag, Street collided with Baylor baseball coach Dutch Schroeder who had run toward the plate umpire to protest the tag.

Royal said he thought the censure was too strong, but he has refused several times to comment on the possibility of Texas leaving the conference.

However, Thompson said withdrawal "is more likely now than in the past, although it is certainly not imminent."

Erwin is chairman of a regents committee selected in September of 1968 to consider "Texas' relations with the Conference. A 1964 committee was appointed to look into the question of a "super conference" including Texas, but it never made public any recommendations.

The regents also are to consider, in a closed-door session, "legal problems" and possible action on a site for the University of Texas at San Antonio.

Vote Right But It Was Wrong Way

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — A twinkle crept into Billy Sullivan's eye as he recalled his parting shot to the other National Football League owners last March in Honolulu.

"I told them I was sure we'd get a 7-2 vote from the city council authorizing a new stadium," said Sullivan, president of the Boston Patriots. "I was right too. The vote was 7-2 only it was against us."

But Sullivan harbors no ill feeling towards Boston's city fathers. Quite the contrary. "The City Council inadvertently did us a big favor," said the Patriots' boss, reporting on his team's plan to move into Foxboro, Mass. in 1971. "We'll end up in a community that really wants the team."

Foxboro proved that in no uncertain terms at a town meeting last month when the citizens voted 1,852 to 84 to accept an offer of land on which to build a stadium for the Pats from E.M. Loew, who owns the adjoining Bay State Raceway.

Sullivan, who reported to NFL owners on the final day of the annual spring meetings, said he hoped "a year from now we can walk into a league meeting carrying our own weight."

Commissioner Pete Rozelle said the owners took no further action on the Ernie Wheelwright case which involves the ownership of a nightspot by the New BATTING — Jim Hickman, Cubs, drilled three hits, including a pair of two-run homers, his second in the ninth inning, giving Chicago an 8-7 triumph over Pittsburgh.

PITCHING — Chuck Dobson, A's, limited California to six singles in Oakland's 2-0 blanking of the Angels.

ERNE BANKS, ever the happy optimist, has something more to jump for joy about than merely another sun-shining Chicago day. His 500th home run was another milestone in his career with the Cubs.

Flood's $3 Million Suit Has Recessed

NEW YORK (AP) — Curt Flood's $3 million antitrust suit against baseball started a week-end recess today with Club Feeney, president of the National League, preparing to take the witness stand next.

Feeney will testify Monday when the trial moves into its eighth day.

Commissioner Bowie Kuhn completed his testimony Thursday and repeated an earlier stand that adoption of pro football's option system would be "very damaging" because of the possibility of tampering.

He's Hoping Saturday Is Lloyd Ruby Day

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — You've heard people say, "This is my day. . . I could lick a whole bag of monkeys."

Well, it has to be your day if you win the Indy 500, the greatest, richest race of them all. You can't imagine how hard I'm hoping Saturday is old Rube's day.

I want to win Indy more than anything I've ever wanted to do. I've had some bitter moments here in the past. I've felt about as bad as a man can feel after things that have happened to me in this race. . . Last year, the year before that and a couple of times before that.

If you follow the sport of auto racing, you will recall that I had to come from the rear last year. Now, I'm going to have to do it again. Starting back where I am in 25th position, you're automatically spotting the leaders the equivalent of one full lap, two and one-half miles. That's like a prizefighter belting you twice on the jaw before the opening bell.

Guys like A.J. Foyt, the Unser brothers and Roger McCluskey don't need any extra help. They're tough enough to beat when you have the advantage. You have to race like hell to beat these guys when you start ahead of them, much less behind, and I'm starting way behind.

How do I expect to do it?

Well, I'm planning to run a

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS
The Liberty Bell rang to proclaim the Boston Tea Party and the first public reading of the Declaration of Independence, thereby becoming a symbol of great reverence to Americans. The World Almanac says that in July, 1835, the bell cracked while tolling for the funeral of Chief Justice John Marshall. The 2,080-pound bell was first hung in the Philadelphia State House in 1753, and is now exhibited in Independence Hall.

Here is a hand to show experts at their best. The scene was New York's Regency Club. The protagonists were the late Raymond Balfe sitting East and the late Sherman Stearns sitting South.

Ralfe, one of the two or three greatest auction players never tried contract tournaments but played a lot of rubber bridge. He was noted for his fierce competitive bidding and he was not going to sell out to four hearts when not vulnerable. He bid four spades as a preliminary to running to five clubs if doubled at spades.

Stearns, winner of several Vanderbilts and Spingolds might have doubled four spades and the subsequent run out to five clubs but Stearns didn't know that most of his partner's heart raise was the ace of clubs. It looked to Sherman that five hearts would be a wrap-up.

West opened the six of spades and Sherman saw that he was going to lose a spade trick, a spade ruff and the ace of trumps unless Balfe could be persuaded to shift from spades at trick two. Sherman dropped the king of spades on Raymond's ace.

The play ought to have worked but it didn't. Raymond looked over dummy carefully. He noted that ace and 10 of clubs. His partner surely held at least five clubs for his overall. Therefore there was no chance of a club trick.

What would it cost him to set up the jack of spades for a discard? Nothing. South obviously held a heart diamond two suiter and one diamond discard on a spade wouldn't do him a bit of good.

Could Stearns have made a sensational spade false-card? Of course! Balfe led out his queen of spades and Stearns was down one.

Q—The bidding has been:

1 ♠ Pass 2 ♠
Pass 2 ♥ Pass 2 ♥
Pass 2 N.T. Pass 3 ♦
Pass 3 N.T. Pass ?

You, South, hold:
♠ A K 5 4 ♦ Q 8 4 2 ♣ K J 9 7

What do you do now?
A—Pass. You may think that you haven't done full justice to your hand but you have. Remember every bid you made has been a force.

TODAY'S QUESTION
Instead of bidding three no-trump your partner has bid four diamonds over your three. What do you do now?

when the Billings city council showed reluctance learned lessons that later proved beneficial to others. This year there will be 500 affiliated units.
Surveys found recreational vehicle owners are unified in a number of simple wants. They need:
• A clean, pleasant place to pull in overnight.
• Not too far from the main road.
• Hot showers and sanitary restrooms.
• Conveniences for preparing meals.
So these things are what KOA provides, charging an average $3.50 per family.
It's done in style. American's supermarket-trained, like to know what is in the package they lift off the shelf. So each KOA unit is pretty much like the other. There is a headquarters building constructed with an A-frame, each identified with all the others by design and paint.
In it are lounge, showers, rest rooms, laundry facilities and a store with food staples. "Roughing it in luxury."
Also, there's a nationwide reservation service so the traveler will know he has a place to park the next night.
Growing as well is another kind of camping area. People in the business like to refer to it as a "destination facility." This just means a resort area rather than an overnight camping place. The vehicle will be parked several days while the vacationers enjoy a wider range of entertainment. The campground system is exploring this phase as well through RKOA (Ranch Kamps of America). There are several pilot models this summer with dude ranch atmospheres, scenery, horseback riding, fishing and swimming.
Over the nation, private business is under pressure to provide facilities for the multitude of recreational vehicles.
"For the past two years the number of vehicles has increased about 25 per cent," says George Weyerhaeuser, head of the giant lumber concern. National parks will never be able to keep pace with this growth.
Private owners of large tracts of forest lands such as Weyerhaeuser—his firm has 5.6 million acres in eight states—are showing interest in using their vast acreages for recreation.
"Destination campgrounds" have a fantastic future, no doubt.
And, like the wayside parks, everyone brings along his own living quarters.

Travel-Recreation
By JIM CROSSLEY

"We'll furnish a place to stay all night, traveler. But bring your own apartment." Looking at it realistically, this is how the private campground serves the family in a recreation vehicle making an overnight stop. It is a roofless wayside inn.
Odd as it may be, it satisfies a great need. In 1970, it is estimated 30 million such recreationers will be on the move, each family like the snail carrying its own shelter with it. Truck campers, travel trailers, motor homes and camping trailers—they will all be there. When night falls, each one needs a place to pull up. Fulfilling the function of the stagecoach inns of the past, but in this rather strange modern way, the campgrounds do the job.
This is a big thing. In 1969, there were 16,146 such parks with 578,342 campsites. It will be bigger still and the pattern of the future seems to be emerging from the experience of one fast-growing group, Kampgrounds of America.
The familiar KOA is the dominant privately-owned, franchised park system in America. There was one park in 1961. It was in Billings, Mont., built because that city expected a flood of trailerites on the way to the Seattle World's Fair. The businessman who constructed the campground

PULLING OFF into a wooded glen has been replaced, for the trailerite, by commercial overnight parking camps.

STRENGTHEN THROUGH

FAMILY TIES

REGULAR WORSHIP

LEST WE forget

God has a destiny for America, and only eyes of Faith can read that destiny. Were it not so, all those who have, and will pay with their lives the last full measure, will have died in vain.

We need only to look at our cemeteries to have our manhood shocked and our Americanism awakened. Our allegiance would be strengthened by that look. We can never recompense for the supreme sacrifice and heartache the spilling of each drop of blood caused. But every American should bow his head in shame when he dares not to salute our Grand Old Flag.

Please let us, this day, rededicate ourselves and say a benediction for all those who have and will lay themselves, in our behalf, between our wonderful country and all her foes.

Lest We Forget.

Moore Back for World Soccer Play

By JOHN FARROW
Associated Press Sports Writer
MEXICO CITY (AP) — Bobby Moore, the Golden Boy of English soccer, was back with his teammates today, preparing to defend the World Cup championship.

An accusation of shoplifting in Bogota, Colombia, still hangs over the head of the handsome 28-year-old blond, captain of the English team.

A Colombian magistrate decided Thursday that Moore could travel from Bogota to Mexico for the World Cup competition, which begins Sunday. Moore was directed to report periodically to the Colombian consul general here.

Moore arrived in Mexico City Thursday night.

He showed the same calm he has exhibited since being accused of shoplifting a $1,300 bracelet. He said he hoped to join his English teammates in Guadalajara as soon as possible.

"The Colombians have been very kind to me and I appreciate the remarks made about this case from many other people in world soccer," Moore said.

Dennis Fellows, secretary of the English Football Association, told newsmen at the airport, "I am sure there was no plot against the English team on the part of anybody."

Weekend Betting At Races About $100 Million

Associated Press Sports
Around $100 million likely will be bet on horse races throughout the country over the big Memorial Day holiday weekend that gets under way today.

The shoving of the greenbacks through the mutuel machines will be supplied by approximately 500,000 patrons of the thoroughbreds and the trotters and pacers in harness racing.

The 14th running of the $119,625 Mother Goose Stakes for 3-year-old fillies kicks off the excitement at Belmont Park today.

This is the second leg in the triple crown for fillies and a field of 16, including Cathy Honey and Royal Signal, was entered for the 1 1/2-mile test. Cathy Honey and Royal Signal won the split divisions of the Acorn Mile at Aqueduct, the first leg.

The $128,400 Jersey Derby at Garden State Park and the $116,000 Metropolitan Mile at Belmont top Saturday's bill.

Elsewhere there is the $50,000 Governor's Handicap at Arlington Park, the $50,000 Lakeside Handicap at Hollywood Park, the $25,000 Brandywine Turf Handicap at the opening of Del-

In harness racing Saturday night's program is headed by the $98,600 Realization Pace at Roosevelt Raceway.

Personality, winner of the Preakness, and his running mate, High Echelon, are favored in the Jersey Derby against a field that includes Hagley, Corn Off The Cob, Silent Screen and Bold Day.

All will carry scale weight of 126 pounds in the 1 1/2-mile last stand-out race for 3-year-olds before the Belmont Stakes on June 6 that winds up the Triple Crown Classics.

Tempered Yankee is the favorite in the Realization Pace.

64 Teams in Outdoor Field, Track Meet

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — There are 64 teams entered in the 94th annual Outdoor ICAA Track and Field Championships today and Saturday, but only two, Villanova and Maryland, are given a chance for the title.

The two Eastern track powers are expected to continue the monopoly they've held in the past five years. Maryland won the championship in 1965, 1966 and 1969, with Villanova second, Villanova finished on top in 1967 and 1968, with Maryland runner-up.

Five individual championships will be determined at today's opening session of the two-day program on the all weather track at Franklin Field. They will be in the javelin, discus, hammer, long jump and six mile run. There also will be 15 trials for Saturday's finals.

Teacher Says He Meant Every Word

By HARRY KING
Associated Press Writer
FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) —

A high school teacher says he meant every word of a letter to Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., suggesting that medals be given the men who killed four Kent State University students earlier this month.

"If the students had been in the classroom where they should have been they wouldn't have been shot," says Ronnie Ashley, an industrial arts printing instructor at Fort Smith Northside High School. "The Guardsmen were protecting their lives and tax property."

Fulbright read a portion on the letter to the Senate Thursday and called it "an eloquent indication of how far some of our people have gone in departing from the constitutional democratic system for which this country has stood throughout its history."

"Dissent is one thing," said Ashley in an interview. "That's not what I'm hollering about. The thing I'm hollering about is destroying tax-supported structures and the destruction of private property."

Ashley, 35, the father of two sons and a Sunday School teacher, said demonstrations should have limitations.

"It's kind of like homemade ice cream," he said. "Homemade ice cream is good, but you get too much of it and it will make you sick."

Ashley, who has taught at Northside for nine years, said he doesn't try to push his ideas onto his students. "But, if something comes up, I off the cuff say what I think," he said.

LIKES HOPE PARK

Editor The Star: "I would like to take this opportunity to express my appreciation for the fine facilities and equipment which I observed at your city park last weekend. This was my first chance to enjoy the fine facilities which Hope offers to the public and I was really impressed by the quality and nature of the facilities and equipment available at the park. We especially enjoyed the availability of the bicycle built-for-two which was placed in the park for the general use of the public.

"It is this type of extra effort and concern that makes people appreciate the hard work and constant effort which goes into the keeping and maintaining of such a fine public facility."

Even Sexy Potatoes Could Count

WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans can get their names taken off commercial mailing lists that offer everything from pornography to potatoes simply by telling their postmasters they find the products too sexy.

"If somebody says he finds an advertisement for potatoes erotically arousing or sexually provocative, we're not going to challenge his motives or his reasons," one Post Office Department official said Thursday.

The basis for the policy is a 1967 law—recently upheld by the Supreme Court—designed to take innocent families off the mailing lists of pornography pushers.

However, the Post Office legal department has contended the Supreme Court ruling does not broaden the anti-pandering law, despite some speculation Chief Justice Warren E. Burger's opinion could be interpreted to mean the law covers all unsolicited mail advertising.

Nevertheless, the Post Office does not plan to challenge any Administration requests to raise the national debt ceiling have been an annual Capitol Hill story for years as the debt total has climbed steadily. The total is up almost $90 billion—from $286.331 billion in 1960—in the last decade. The current $337.7 billion is already above the permanent legal level of $365 billion, to which the ceiling would revert after June 30 should Congress not act on the administration request for a new hike to $395 billion.

Little Chance Gains Spark Hopes the Market May Be Pulling Out of Downward Trend

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., says there is little chance Congress will enact the new $1.6 billion tax on leaded gasoline asked by President Nixon.

If such a bill is pushed, he said in an interview, "it could just end up as another Christmas tree with more tax cuts in it like the tax reform bill last year."

"If that happened, we could be in even more trouble. I think we already are in serious trouble economically and on the budget."

Several Democratic senators also said they saw little reason for Congress to approve the proposed new tax.

They said it appeared the President was trying to raise money to lessen the budget deficit now forecast for the next fiscal year. But they insisted it would not be effective against auto pollution despite Nixon's claims.

Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., Commerce Committee chairman, said:

"What the President's proposal may very well do is cost the American people $1.6 billion without affording them any appreciable benefit."

"A much better approach would be to prohibit the production of leaded gasoline at some future date. This could eliminate leaded gas and foster the production of unleaded fuel while saving American consumers $1.6 billion."

The new tax would raise gasoline prices about 2.3 cents a gallon.

Williams, Senior Republican on the tax-writing Finance Committee, also doubted the budget

Secret Daydream of One Man Could Be Nightmare for Another

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — The buds of spring have all opened now, and many of its brave petals fallen.

The seasons seem endless, but in truth they do march upon each other's heels, and bright summer is already standing in the wings, impatient to seize the stage.

Then it'll be vacation time again for millions, and most of them will find their week or two away from work almost as routine as the long months they spend on the job.

But if the seasons change, why can't people?

Wouldn't it be wonderful if just this year everybody on earth did something different on his vacation, tried some adventure that had beckoned to him all his life but whose challenge he had never answered? It would have a tonic effect on him whether it proved to be fun or foolish.

What could one do? Well, one man's secret daydream could be another's nightmare, but you might, for once in your life—

Drink wine from a goatskin bag.
Pick a cucumber and convert it into a pickle.

Go to the South Pole and play leapfrog with a penguin.

Go to the North Pole and do your Christmas shopping early. Adopt an orphaned robin. Become a carnival barker.

Wear white tie and tails to the opening of a new delicatessen. Write a love sonnet with a stylus.

Have a cannibal for lunch during National Brotherhood Week.

Hire a sky writer to inscribe aloft your views about what we should do about Vietnam. Secretly climb Mt. Rushmore at night with chisel and mallet and carve your own profile there.

Start an antigambling crusade at Las Vegas. Cool a war, warm a peace.

Launch a drive to have the White House painted a more interesting color.

Initiate a fund to give free rose-colored glasses to every college student in America.

Wherever you go, take along a couple of briefcases and do the work you've been ducking at the office all year. That would really make a memorable vacation for everyone, including the boss.

"I feel that with your help and support, I can continue the necessary leadership for this important office for a second term, I take this opportunity to ask for your vote and support in the coming Democratic primaries." Respectfully, attorney. The district is composed of Clark, Nevada, Hempstead, and Miller Counties.

"In announcing his candidacy for a second term, Arnold stated: 'I have enjoyed being your Prosecuting Attorney for the past one and one-half years and have tried to conduct the duties and responsibilities of this office in such a manner as to bring about criminal justice. At a time when our entire nation is concerned by lawlessness and disrespect for law and order, I am proud to say that the people of this District and County have voiced their concern and have supported the efforts of the Prosecuting Attorney's office in the prosecution of criminal cases.'"

5 Missing in Off-Shore Oil Blast

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — Aircraft and Coast Guard vessels searched through the night for five men missing in an off-shore oil platform explosion and fire in which four were known dead and 15 injured.

A platform storage tank was ruptured, creating an oil slick and threatening contamination of Galveston Island beaches.

Coast Guard Lt. R. E. Harrington said an explosion of unknown origin Thursday on the platform, 12 miles from the coast, apparently set off the fire. Flames quickly spread to a repair boat floating underneath.

Of 17 known survivors out of 26 men in the boat or on the platform, only two escaped injury. Four of the injured were hospitalized.

"The oil spill really is comparatively small but it is going to come in near Galveston," Harrington said.

A spokesman for Gov. Preston Smith said the slick was more than three miles long and a quarter-to-a-half-mile wide.

Three oil wells about 3,500 feet away are linked with the platform but a spokesman for Chambers & Kennedy Oil Co. in Houston, owners of the structure, said the wells had been closed off when a repair job got under way two weeks ago.

"The only thing burning is some oil we had in five 1,000-barrel storage tanks and they were only about one-third full," the spokesman said.

Only one of the dead had been identified. He was Barnwell Armstrong of Lake Jackson.

Hospitalized were Roy Lelland, 45, in critical condition, and Lawrence Theriot and Ronnie Breaux, in fair condition. All three are from Gueydan, La.

One body was brought ashore by a helicopter shortly after the late afternoon explosion and fire. Three bodies were found aboard the repair boat, the Carry Back, after it was towed to shallow water at the eastern end of Galveston Island.

The Senate agreed before it adjourned Thursday for the Memorial Day weekend to vote Wednesday on Dole's amendment.

But the key vote is likely to come on a bid by Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., to table—and thus kill—the Dole amendment.

He said it "is quite clearly designed to destroy any effect whatsoever" of the Cooper-Church proposal barring funds after July 1 for "retaining" U.S. forces in Cambodia.

After Dole's amendment is acted on, Sen. Robert C. Byrd, D-W.Va., says he will offer another amendment authorizing the President "to take such actions as may be necessary to protect the lives of United States forces in South Vietnam and to hasten their withdrawal."

Cooper said both amendments deal with the subject that he finds increasingly mentioned in his mail: the contention by administration forces that Cooper-Church proponents are refusing to permit protection of U.S. troops in the field.

"They know better," Cooper said, pointing out the proposal would permit "hot pursuit" of the enemy across the South Vietnam-Cambodia border and "salaries over the line to protect the troops."

McClellan's Stand Is Supported

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., who supports President Nixon's decision to send U.S. troops into Cambodia, says 96 per cent of the mail he has received from Arkansas supports his position.

McClellan said mail received from states other than Arkansas was running about 94 per cent in favor of his position.

The senator said he began getting a large number of letters shortly after Nixon announced he was sending troops into Cambodia and that a heavy surge of mail began when he announced he supported Nixon's action.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States will seek assurance from Moscow in talks next week that Soviet pilots in Egypt will not fly offensive missions against Israel.

Administration policy makers are not optimistic about the Washington discussions, but they agree the outcome will have an important bearing on President Nixon's forthcoming decision on an Israeli request for more warplanes.

The lack of U.S. optimism stems from an apparent belief the Soviets have embarked on a tough and threatening course in the Middle East.

This in turn has brought on a similar display of determination

Thinks Vote on Cambodia a Clear Test

By CARL P. LUEBSCH

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John Sherman Cooper says next week's vote to bar enforcement of his proposal to restrict U.S. activities in Cambodia will provide the first clear test of strength in the three-week Senate debate.

The amendment, offered by Sen. Robert J. Dole, R-Kan., would make the proposed fund cutoff inoperative as long as Americans are held prisoner by the North Vietnamese in Cambodia.

"If the members in here aren't impressed by that," Cooper, R-Ky., said in an interview, "they won't be impressed by the other amendments either."

The Senate agreed before it adjourned Thursday for the Memorial Day weekend to vote Wednesday on Dole's amendment.

Possibility of a Wet Memorial Day

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The U. S. Weather Bureau is forecasting the possibility of a wet Memorial Day weekend for much of Arkansas.

Thundershowers and showers are predicted for the state tonight, decreasing Saturday. However, the weather bureau says due to a sluggish airmass now covering the state the extended outlook through Tuesday is for scattered showers and thundershowers.

As the airmass controls the state's weather temperatures are expected to be warm.

Highs Thursday ranged from 80 at Harrison to 88 at Little Rock.

Overnight lows were Fayetteville, 64; Harrison, 64; Jonesboro, 68; Pine Bluff, 69; Texarkana, 70; El Dorado, 68; Memphis, 70; Little Rock, 66; and Fort Smith 67.

Help Trying to Reach Prey Veng

By GEORGE ESPEY
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — More than 1,000 South Vietnamese marines pushed toward the besieged Cambodian provincial capital of Prey Veng today to reinforce Cambodian troops battling North Vietnamese and Viet Cong for the second day.

A high-ranking Cambodian military source said Prey Veng, 30 miles east of Phnom Penh, was surrounded and apparently only the provincial headquarters and the center of the town was still firmly held by government forces.

A South Vietnamese military spokesman in Saigon reported the marines had entered Prey Veng, but Cambodian military sources said the marines were still pressing toward the town, supported by helicopters.

The marines pushed up the east bank of the Mekong River and ran into strong North Vietnamese forces near the town of Banam, about 10 miles southwest of Prey Veng.

The marines reported killing 19 North Vietnamese soldiers and capturing eight prisoners and 11 weapons. South Vietnamese losses were put at four killed and 21 wounded.

Official sources in Saigon said the attack on Prey Veng, the second in two days, was an attempt by the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong to solidify their positions east of the Mekong River and to secure a new supply route replacing those disrupted by American and South Vietnamese forces. Prey Veng is one of the Cambodian government's last major strongholds east of the Mekong.

The Cambodian spokesman said street fighting was under way as Prey Veng's military fighters could not go to the aid of the defenders for fear of hitting civilians.

Communist forces have surrounded Prey Veng for more than two weeks. They assaulted the town early Thursday but pulled back to the outskirts later in the day. After being reinforced, they resumed the assault today.

Unconfirmed reports in Phnom Penh said the town was defended mainly by militiamen, and it was feared they would be no match for the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong.

Associated Press Correspondent John T. Wheeler reported from Phnom Penh that the loss of Prey Veng would be a serious blow to the Cambodian army, which he said had recovered some elan in recent weeks because of the disruption of enemy forces by the American and South Vietnamese operations in eastern Cambodia.

The Cambodian spokesman also reported that a small Viet Cong unit attacked a village near a ferry across the Sap River 17 miles north of Phnom Penh on Wednesday. The ferry is on Highway 5, the main road from Phnom Penh to northern Cambodia.

Although the spokesman described the attack as harassment, it was the closest reported to the capital.

The spokesman said Cambodian forces farther north had withdrawn from the Prek Kak rubber plantation to the town of Prek Kak, about 20 miles north of Kompong Cham, after suffering heavy casualties in fighting Thursday. Kompong Cham, Cambodia's third largest city, is 50 miles northeast of Phnom Penh on the west bank of the Mekong River.
